

THE SPIRIT AND THE BRIDE

Waterfalls and crystal streams
Granite Mountains and puzzle-pine trees
All these reflect His love, the handiwork of God above
All these reflect His love, the handiwork of God above
For you, and me
He loves you and me

Peace, gentle peace He gives to all who will call on Him
So free, so free. So free

Spirit and the Bride say come
All those who heareth, say come
All those who athirst come, whosoever will
Let him drink of the Water of Life freely
So freely, so freely, so freely so freely

He gave His life for you, on a wooden cross
Crucified and lifted up, he bore the cost
For you
He loves you
He loves you
He loves you
